ACCORD NEAR IN STRIKE AT
MURRAY CORP.CHRYSLER WALKOUT
IDLES 8,500 IN
DODGE PLANT

Detroit, Aug. 15 (P)—Efforts to settle the 25-day-old Murray Corp. of America strike took the automotive labor spotlight today although a walkout at Chrysler Corporation's Dodge main plant idled 8,500 workers and final details of a new Ford contract still were being worked out.

Negotiations between Murray, an essential car parts supplier, and the CIO United Auto Workers broke off once during the day but were resumed later and ended on a somewhat harmonious note.

Union leaders walked out on Murray President Clarence W. Avery and his aides after one ten-minute session, saying the company's latest proposal on a Taft-Hartley contract clause "contained all the bad features of previous proposals that had been rejected."

A panel of three federal conciliators brought the two parties back together immediately, however, and two more proposals were offered the union.

Arbitration In Dispute
Emil Mazey, UAW-CIO regional co-director, said the company's attitude "was a lot different" in the second meeting and indicated "a desire to work the issue out and not prolong the strike."

Maze said any clause leaving any dispute arising under the Taft-Hartley clause to compulsory arbitration was unacceptable to the 7,000 Murray workers, whose strike has forced an indefinite shutdown of Studebaker Corp. at South Bend, Ind., and has idled 51,000 Ford employees for varying periods.

Company negotiators were insisting on arbitration as a means of determining whether the union does everything in its power to prevent or end a wildcat strike, thus relieving itself of financial liability under the new labor law.

Avery said the company was willing to grant clauses identical with those accepted by the union from International Harvester Co. and Curtiss-Wright Manufacturing Co.

Discipline Protested
After the breakdown of negotiations, Mazey announced plans to strike Murray's other plants in Scranton, Pa., and Belding, Mich. He said he also would recommend that the Murray strikers with union help, seek jobs in other plants. But he later said both actions would be withheld "because of the company's changed attitude."

Negotiations will resume Monday. The union is demanding a general 15-cent hourly wage increase and abolition of wage differentials and inequities in addition to a Taft-Hartley protective clause.

Chrysler said the Dodge walkout was in protest against the disciplining of 18 workers who left their jobs without permission to celebrate V-J Day Thursday. Most of the day shift was sent home until Monday after an indefinite number left the plant.

Signing of the Ford contract was put over until after the weekend because of the absence of three UAW-CIO pension advisers.

Spokesmen for both Ford and the union agreed, however, that none of the remaining issues

Peace Treaty
For Japan To Defy Soviets

BY ALEX H. SINGLETON
Washington, Aug. 15 (P)—The United States has told Russia positively but firmly that the Japanese peace treaty will be written by a conference of many nations, not just the "Big Four"—and the Soviets can take it or leave it.

The move apparently is designed to avert a deadlock over Japan like that which has delayed decisions on the future of Germany and Austria.

The American position was laid down in a note made public by the State department today which rejected a Soviet demand that the Japanese treaty be worked out by a council of foreign ministers of the United States, Russia, Britain and China alone.

Similar machinery, but with France instead of China taking the fourth hand, was worked out at the Potsdam conference to draft the treaties for Italy and the Balkan satellites of the Nazis, and for Austria and Germany. But American diplomats repeatedly found themselves stymied by Russian "veto" under procedure that required a unanimous vote of the four.

Boycott No Bar
In the 11-nation conference the U. S. seeks, decisions would be made by a two-thirds vote. This would prevent Russia or any other single nation by itself from blocking its work. The conference also would meet the demands of other countries, notably Australia, for a voice in the Pacific treaty-making.

The new note to Moscow expressed hope that Russia will agree to sit down with the other Pacific nations to work out the Japanese terms, but made it plain that the conference will be held even if the Soviet Union decides to boycott it.

Three far, all except Russia of the 11 powers have agreed to attend. The others besides the U. S. are Britain, China, Australia, New Zealand, the Netherlands, France, the Philippines, India and Canada.

No definite date has been set for the meeting, but the note said it will be held "in the near future."

SQUEEZE ON OIL
FIRMS CLAIMEDSenator Claims Small Distributors Forced Out Of Business

Washington, Aug. 15 (P)—Chairman Wherry (R-Neb.) said today the Senate small business committee has received complaints that independent oil distributors are being forced out of business in the middle west through a "squeeze" on supplies by major oil companies.

In a statement issued through the committee, Wherry said major refiners have been asked to submit to the committee at hearings in Chicago August 21 and 22 information about their capacity, the amount of crude oil processed monthly in the last two years, and purchases for the same period.

He said "Hundreds of small refiners, independent oil distributors and retail outlets have complained to the committee that they are being forced out of business due to the 'squeeze' on supplies in effect by major oil companies."

Wherry contended this "squeeze" is prevalent in a 12-state area, including Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota, and South Dakota.

Georgia Abolishes
Last Of Prisoner
Road Work Camps

Atlanta, Aug. 15 (P)—Georgia today abolished the last of its state highway work camps for convicts despite a plea by 48 White prisoners that the camp be retained.

The board of corrections voted Monday to remove the state from direct operation of highway work camps after criticism of the shooting of eight Negro convicts at a camp in Glynn county. Glynn county camp officials reported the Negroes were shot during an attempt to escape.

White prisoners at the Folkston highway camp, in extreme South Georgia, protested the closing in a petition to Gov. M. E. Thompson and the board, declaring it was one of the best camps in the system.

ON FAIR BOARD

Lansing, Aug. 15 (P)—John J. Mac Innis of Rudyard today was reappointed by Governor Sigler to the board of managers of the Upper Peninsula State Fair for a five-year term.

HAD EXTRAS—Gerald D. O'Neill, 51-year-old bald, bespectacled, paunchy movie extra, had some extra wives—seven, in fact—according to Hollywood police, who charge he married eight women without bothering to get divorces in between dashes to the altar. The women, all middle-aged widows, described him as a fine gentleman.

NO CEASE-FIRE
FOR INDONESIAMore Men Dying Now Than When War Was Officially On

BY STANLEY SWINTON
Garret, West Java, Aug. 15 (P)—The cease-fire order issued by the Dutch and Indonesians in the East Indies is a mockery here in the front lines.

More men are dying now than when the war was officially on, say soldiers and officers who are doing the actual fighting.

The cease-fire order had been heralded as the United Nations Security Council's first great victory for peace.

For the Dutch, the cease-fire in reality meant there would be no drive on the Indonesian capital of Jogjakarta nor the small chunk of Central Java still held by the Republic. Elsewhere, they are continuing to move forward in the rich areas they officially term "occupied."

While cut off, these areas never were occupied at the time of the cease-fire order.

The Indonesians, who after the first cease-fire order announced later they, too, planned "mopping up and protective" action, now seem to be pushing just as hard and in just the way their staff officers in Jogjakarta outlined to me months ago.

In some areas the Dutch proclaim they occupy, but where actually a slender line of blond Dutch youths have just staked perimeter areas in a few towns, the Republicans were striking down from the mountains, sniping and avoiding frontal clashes more effectively than when the Dutch forces were moving.

Porcupines Blaze
Battled By 250
And 20 Bulldozers

Lansing, Aug. 15 (P)—Two hundred and fifty forest fire fighters and 20 bulldozers battled today to envelop a 600-acre fire which has made two onslaughts on Michigan's $1,000,000 Porcupine Mountain State park.

The State Conservation department said sketchy reports indicated that the fire fighting crew was holding its own against the blaze which broke out of control Thursday after once being contained.

Milton Bergman, assistant chief of the department's field administration division, said the course of the battle depended on the wind. A let-up in a 25-mile-an-hour breeze early today gave the crew a chance to extend its fire lines and predictions were for a wind shift which would blow the fire away from the park, less than a mile distant.

British Taxes May
Bring U. S. Slump,
Says Movie Maker

Hollywood, Aug. 15 (P)—Film Producer Sam Wood today predicted Great Britain's 75 per cent tax on imported films might well set off a full-scale depression in this country.

Wood said the immediate effect of the tax in the industry was an intensive effort to pare production costs.

"Producers all over town are screaming 'We've got to save, save, save,'" he said. "Of course, the easiest way to do that is to cut salaries, but not only salaries are affected. There are thousands of small firms all over the country supplying the movie industry and its theatres. In addition to all the employees—actors and technicians—in the studios, there are many other thousands who would be indirectly affected by a cutback in movie production schedules."

MOSLEMS AND HINDUS CEASE
BITTER STRIFEVULTURES PREY ON BODIES OF FALLEN IN PUNJAB

BY WALTER J. MASON
New Delhi, Aug. 15 (P)—Millions of Hindus and Moslems dropped their months-long fratricidal strife in the emotional upsurge of celebrating their first day of independence today as appeals for peace sped across the young Dominions of India and Pakistan, the world's second and fifth most populous states.

But the bitterly opposed religious communities still fought a mutually destructive conflict in the Punjab, where press dispatches reported vultures preying on the bodies of the fallen.

The toll of rioting and gang warfare in that unhappy province rose to 268 dead and 65 wounded in four days in the capital city of Lahore. A dozen fires blazed in the city, and authorities disclosed the use of tanks by the military for the first time to suppress heavily armed gangs.

New Flagpoles Sprout
New Delhi's first day of liberation from British rule was ushered in with ceremonies combining the pomp and splendor of east and west, and Calcutta's millions of Hindus and Moslems joined freely in celebrating together.

Embracing each other, shouting "Jai Hind" (victory to India), and waving the new tri-color flag of saffron, green and white, the Calcutta crowds marched by the thousands in a "Holy Pilgrimage" to the temporary residence of Mohandas K. Gandhi, the "architect of India's freedom."

There, where the wispy Indian was conducting his own celebration with fasting, praying, and spinning, they shouted "Hindu Moslem one."

In New Delhi hilarious crowds planted a flagpole wherever there was room for one. Bands blared, some playing western tunes. Young Nationalists paraded flags through the streets. Horsedrawn tongas (two wheeled carts) were gaily decorated, and thousands of paper pennants fluttered from strings across the streets. Shops, banks and newspapers closed for the day. There was distribution of candy and medals at many places.

Cheers For Mountbatten
Bombay, birthplace and backdrop of the Congress party's triumphant freedom struggle, staged the greatest mass demonstration in its history with 400,000 persons parading from the Gollava reservoir where the first session of the party was held 62 years ago. Motorcyclists mingled with bullock carts and floral floats in the procession.

Moslem Pakistan's celebration in Karachi came to a conclusion with a military parade viewed by 100,000. Mahomed Ali Jinnah, Moslem chief, took the salute as a detachment of the Pakistan navy and army marched past and a squadron of air force planes flew overhead.

Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru concluded the Hindu Dominion's first day with a nationwide broadcast in which he told the people "Our first and immediate objective must be to put an end to all internecine strife and violence which disfigure and degrade us and injure the cause of freedom."

Former Prosecutor Is Disbarred For Tieup With Graft

Mt. Clemens, Mich., Aug. 15 (P)—Former Macomb County Prosecutor Wilbur F. Held today was disbarred from further practice of law in Michigan by three circuit judges sitting en banc and accepting a recommendation of the Michigan Bar association's grievance committee.

Held, 39, a key figure in Judge Herman Dehnke's one-man grand jury investigation of gambling-graft tieups in Macomb county, offered no testimony before the judges and declined to say whether he would appeal their decision to the state supreme court.

His attorney, George E. Day of Detroit, said he would offer no defense to the Bar association committee's charges other than an answer Held gave earlier, denying categorically he had accepted bribes as Macomb county prosecutor.

Judges Thomas J. Murphy, Detroit; James R. Breakey Jr., Ann Arbor; and Archie D. McDonald, Hastings, declared in their statement that the former prosecutor was "an unfit person to be longer entrusted with the privileges and trust of an attorney."

German Gun-Making
Krupps Indicted As
Nazi War Criminals

By THOMAS A. REEDY
Nuremberg, Saturday, Aug. 16 (P)—The Krupps, Germany's gun-makers for 133 years, were indicted as war criminals today.

Two years after the collapse of the Third Reich, American prosecutors presented to an all-American court a 50-page bill charging the giant Ruhr steelmaking and armament firm with waging aggressive war, plundering peaceful countries and exploiting slave labor to an inhuman climax.

Twelve men were named as directors of the $2,500,000,000 Krupps concern during the criminal years under Hitler.

Number one defendant is Alfred Krupp von Bohlen and Halbach, son of Bertha Krupp, heiress of the Krupp fortune who gave the name "Big Bertha" to the giant cannon which shelled Paris in the First World War.

The other defendants, all facing possible death penalties if convicted, included Ewald Leoser, Karl Pfirsch, Max Ihn, Karl Eberhardt, Heinrich Korschman, Friedrich von Buelow, Heinrich Lemmann, Hans Kuppe, Edward Houdremont, Erick Mueller, Frederick Jensen.

(By The Associated Press)
New Englanders and Easterners sweltered Friday in near record temperatures, but the weather bureau forecast relief Saturday. Some of the midwestern corn belt received needed rain.

New Yorkers had the hottest day of the season, with 93 degrees and high humidity. Other temperatures reported included 97 at Portland, Me., 95 at Concord, N. H., and 94 at Boston, Philadelphia and Washington.

Cooler air began to overspread Northern Maine late Friday, and relief was due in New York by about noon Saturday and in Philadelphia and Washington by evening.

The middlewest enjoyed moderate temperatures in the 80s Friday after a three-day siege of hot weather.

Rain fell in the Ohio Valley from the Mississippi River eastward, blanketing the southwestern portion of the corn belt in Southern Illinois and Indiana. But, Iowa and Northern Illinois, producers of the bulk of the nation's corn, continued dry with the lack of precipitation nearing the critical stage.

Communists Eiser
Convicted In Court Of Passport Fraud

Washington, Aug. 15 (P)—Communist Gerhart Eiser, 52, already under sentence to serve a year for contempt of Congress was convicted in Federal court today on charges of passport fraud.

Sentence was not pronounced pending disposal of a defense move for a new trial. Conviction carries a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

Eiser, described by the House committee on un-American activities as the top Communist agent in the United States, told a reporter after the trial:

"In the present political atmosphere I did not expect any other outcome in Washington. It was a most fair trial on the most unfair indictment."

Eiser was charged with fraudulently concealing his Communist affiliations, the fact he had used aliases, and that he had been in this country previously when he applied in 1945 for an exit permit to return to his native Germany.

The jury, which heard five weeks of testimony, reached its verdict after two hours and 15 minutes of deliberating.

Defense Attorney Joseph Isserman said he will appeal.

ARAB BRIGANDS
ARE EXECUTEDJewish Underground
Kills Seven Leaders
Of Expected D-Day

BY CARTER L. DAVIDSON
Tel Aviv, Palestine, Aug. 15 (P)—The organized Jewish underground struck back at what it called "Arab brigandage" in Palestine's new racial war today and announced it had "executed" seven of the leaders in an effort to forestall an Arab "D-Day."

Altogether 11 Arabs were killed in a bomb and machinegun attack on the two-story stone and steel house in an orange grove near Petah Tikvah, which Hagana, illegal Jewish defense organization, called the "headquarters for Arab brigandage."

Along with other incidents today, the action brought Palestine's six-day racial war toll to 31 dead, 107 injured and property losses of more than $1,000,000.

Hagana, organized years ago to defend Jewish settlements, announced it had found the headquarters which "has been responsible for recent Arab attacks on Jews and 'executed the leader of the brigands and then executed six of his men found in the house.'"

When British soldiers investigated they found four Arabs who had been killed in a gun fight in the yard of the house six miles from Tel Aviv, and seven more bodies in the debris of the house that had been demolished by three electrically detonated charges.

Among the dead were the wife and four children and two grown sons of the man Hagana said was the "brigand" leader.

Gen. Omar Bradley
Leaves For Europe
To Inspect Troops

New York, Aug. 15 (P)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley, the "doughboys' general" of World War 2 who has spent the last two years as head of the Veterans Administration, sailed for Europe today on a trip whose purpose he said was to "reorient myself into the army."

The general said he would make a "general inspection" of American troops in Germany, Austria and Italy, arriving in the latter country Sept. 9 and spending "three or four days" there.

Asked specifically whether he would look into charges by Scripps—Howard Staff Writer Robert Ruark of lavish living by Army officers in Italy and dissatisfaction among troops, Bradley declined comment and referred newsmen to a statement issued earlier in the day by the war department.

Taylor Represents
Truman In Vatican;
Will Talk To Pope

Washington, Aug. 15 (P)—Myron C. Taylor is en route to Rome as President Truman's personal representative to confer with Pope Pius on world peace.

President Truman announced in a statement late today that the industrialist will discuss with the Pope problems "relative to the establishment of peace under a moral world order and to the alleviation of human suffering still continuing in many parts of the world."

The statement said the president has asked Taylor "to hold conversations with other leaders on similar problems while he is in Europe."

The White House did not indicate with what other leaders he will talk.

CREW CAUGHT
THE IRISH SEADISASTER MAY BE WORST IN YEARS
FOR ENGLAND

Whitehaven, England, Saturday, Aug. 16 (P)—Sixteen miners were known today to have been killed and 95 others still were trapped in a deep undersea coal mine which was swept by an explosion last night.

A bulletin issued by the national coal board said ventilation in the 135-year-old William mine had been restored and there was no sign of fire.

A rock barrier blocked a mine passage for 250 yards. Rescue teams made up of miners from the area were striving to reach the trapped men.

J. G. Helps, area manager of the national coal board, said at least three separate rock falls blocked the main passage in the mine two miles from the pithead. The pithead is on the shore in Cumberland county at the northwest corner of England and the workings slant downward under the sea.

All Believed Dead
Officials apparently had little hope that the men would be brought out alive. Most of the ambulances standing at the pithead were dismissed.

Hundreds of people, including white-faced wives and children of the trapped miners, blocked roads leading to the colliery beside the Irish Sea.

After the coal board's statement was issued shortly before dawn, many began walking slowly back to their homes in the dark grimy towns of Whitehaven.

After hearing of the difficulties in the path of the rescue teams the many residents of Whitehaven, a town accustomed for generations to the hazards of mining, felt there was little chance of the men being rescued.

The explosion spread panic through Whitehaven. It appeared to be Britain's worst mine disaster in years.

Ten pitworkers in the mine at the time of the blast were rescued a short time later. Among them was Harry Allen, whose son was among the missing.

The scream of ambulances had sent women and children rushing to the mine. The women were shawls against the knifing cold wind off the Irish Sea.

Long Way To Go
Helps' statement said the explosion occurred last night at 5:40 local time (11:40 a. m., Friday, CDT).

"A hundred and twenty-one men were in the pit at the time," he continued. "Of these, three men have come out of the pit and seven others are known to be safe and assisting the rescue work. * * There are a large number of falls behind which the remainder of the men are trapped and it will be some time before they can be released."

"So far there is nothing to indicate the seat of the explosion or its cause."

Underground workers from all sections of this mining area converged on the pithead in response to an appeal for volunteer rescue workers.

The William mine shaft slants downward from the coast several miles under the water of the Firth of Solway. A national coal board official reported that the blast apparently occurred three or four miles from the pithead.

City Traffic Safety Committee Organized To Work With Police

An Escanaba safety and traffic committee composed of 10 men representing various organizations in the city has been organized to cooperate with the city police department in educating the public on traffic regulations as a means of providing maximum safety on Escanaba streets.

In addition to stressing traffic regulations, the new unit will adopt a widespread program designed to reduce the automobile accident rate in the city, which is high, and to make Escanaba as safe as possible for pedestrians and motorists.

Members of the committee are James Davidson, representative of city insurance men, secretary of the group; Charles Wood, citizens-at-large; Chris H. Nicholson, Trades and Labor Council; John Boyle, retail merchants; Clarence Zerbe, schools; Baxter Mitchell, Kiwanis club; James H. Jackson, Chamber of Commerce; Joseph H. Ivens, Rotary club; Robert E. Lemire, American Legion; and Michael F. Ettenhofer, chief of police.

Zerbe and Ivens were appointed on a special committee to study traffic safety and adopt a program to be presented later to the committee and the police department.

It was emphasized that the committee would cooperate with the city police department in every possible way.

The date of the next meeting is Wednesday, Aug. 27.

FARM EXHIBITS SHOWN AT FAIR

Dairy And Poultry Displays Planned For UP Fair

A comprehensive exhibit featuring better methods of dairying and poultry raising will be displayed by the USDA at the Upper Peninsula State Fair, Escanaba, Aug. 19 to 24. The exhibit will show fair visitors many facts on improved feeding, breeding, and management of dairy cows and in the raising of poultry.

One of the highlights of the dairy exhibit is a "mechanical cow." With the use of an animated model cow the digestive and milk producing organs are shown. It will help visitors to understand how a cow, with its large stomach capacity can turn bulky feed like pasture and roughage into milk of high vitamin content. Fairgoers will see how good hay is produced and what it should look like. Another exhibit shows how soybeans may be fed to dairy cows, beef animals, and hogs.

One of the dairy exhibits tells how dairy improvement associations operate for the benefit of the dairymen. In a motion picture entitled "More Milk," dairymen will be shown eight ways of increasing production.

Another display built in the shape of a poultry house gives direction for controlling poultry lice and mites through the spraying of the house and equipment, and by treating the birds with a dipping solution of powder. Another exhibit shows how Pullorum disease of poultry can be controlled. Publications for farmers and homemakers that may be obtained without charge from the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Washington will be on display in a special publications booth.

Famous Jugglers Will Perform At U. P. State Fair

A rare combination of amazing acrobatic skill on the slack wire and astounding juggling artistry will be presented at the Upper Peninsula State Fair at Escanaba by the dexterous and agile Pat and Willa Levolo, exceptionally talented artists.

Pat performs his clever and thrilling feats of equilibrium on a bicycle delicately balanced on a special slack-wire rigging. His exhibition reaches a smashing climax when he pedals like mad as the slack wire whizzes at dizzy speed as a treadmill.

Willa performs unusual feats of uncanny balancing on special rigging of her own design. She juggles with magnificent skill as she maintains her delicate equilibrium in a chair precisely balanced bottles on and one slender metal rod far above the ground.

Together, Pat and Willa perform feats of gymnastic adagio on the slack wire with astounding skill and daring. Their whole

WATER BALLET COMES TO FAIR

Lottie Mayer and Famous Disappearing Act Is Welcome Attraction

Lottie Mayer, noted producer of Hollywood Water ballet sequences, who will present her Disappearing Water Ballet at the Upper Peninsula State Fair at Escanaba, Aug. 19-20-21-22, trains her diving girls as dancers first before perfecting their diving skill and teaching them aquatic routines.

Prime requisites for a water ballet girl are good looks and a perfect figure, according to the producer, who conducts a large water ballet school in Hollywood. Grace is the next essential, she holds, and that is why she teaches dancing first.

"All of the appeal of a water ballet lies in its beauty—and this beauty comes from graceful movements, timed perfectly. By training the girls to dance expertly, I also get them to be graceful," she explains.

In the disappearing Water Ballet ten of her outstanding girls both dance and dive. They offer a succession of outstanding aquatic sequences. Individually, they also contribute specialty dives, such as gainers, somersaults and twisters, with the most spectacular presentation being a front drop plunge from a trapeze.

Most arresting and the bewildering feature of the production is the disappearing ballet. In this, the beauties, attired in diving suits, plunge into the water, disappear and then emerge about 18 seconds later wearing either lavishly gowns, as in one number, or rhinestone bras and trunks as in another.

The entire production bears the Hollywood touch. Not only are the girls finished divers and dancers, but the stagecraft is typical of Hollywood at its best. A battery of 24 spotlights, which range in all the colors of the rainbow; ten fountains, which yield minute spray, and especially arranged music, all heighten the effects. Costuming, too, lends beauty; the diving suits representing the latest in bathing attire and the gowns being notable for their lavishness.

Make-ready for the production demands man-power. Setting up of the tank alone requires five hours and erection of the striking

County Collects Sum Of $2296.49 In July On Delinquent Taxes

During the month of July $2296.49 was collected in delinquent taxes and redemptions, it was announced yesterday by R. C. Pryal, county treasurer.

The amounts credited to townships and cities is as follows: Baldwin, $28.18; Bark River, $119.05; Bay de Noc, $30.43; Brampton, $46.38; Cornell, $33.90; Ensign, $49.31; Escanaba, $98.58; Ford River, $109.38; Garden, $5.45; Maple Ridge, $47.81; Masonville, $35.44; Nahma, $18.63; Wells, $128.70; City of Escanaba, $996.76; City of Gladstone, $559.55; Village of Garden, $8.91. Total—$2296.49.

U. P. Chamber Of Commerce To Be Discussed Here Soon

To consider establishment of an Upper Peninsula Chamber of Commerce association, secretaries of the Chamber of Commerce organizations in Upper Michigan are meeting in Escanaba Wednesday noon, Aug. 20.

The meeting has been called by George E. Bishop, secretary-manager of the Upper Peninsula Development bureau.

At the meeting, to be held in the Delta hotel, will be J. R. Merrifield of Sault Ste. Marie; L. J. Merwin, of Munising; Charles Burton, of Gladstone; Ray E. Laufenberg, of Menominee; Ben H. DeVoe, of Marquette, and Dudley Jewell, of Escanaba.

This meeting is a preliminary of the state meeting to take place at Blaney Park, Sept. 12.

Wedding Friday—Jack E. Whitaker and Rose Jensen, of Crandon, Wis., spoke their nuptial vows in the county courthouse Friday afternoon with William A. Miller, judge of probate, officiating.

Honorary Pallbearers—Honorary pallbearers of the Altar society at the funeral of Mrs. Alphonse LaPalm were Mesdames Paul Jolicœur, Jeff Menard, Joseph Germaine and Joseph Fillion.

To Install Minister—Rev. L. R. Lund, president of the Marinette District of the Lutheran Free church, will leave immediately after the Sunday morning services to install Rev. Freeman Sveom as pastor of the Zion Lutheran church of Peshtigo and of the Norwegian Lutheran church of Porterfield at the joint services in Porterfield, Wis. at 2 p. m. Sunday.

Granted Permit—S. M. Johnson, Escanaba, was granted a permit yesterday to construct a 50 by 90-foot garage at 115 North Seventh street, Escanaba.

Two More Grass Fires—Firemen at the No. 2 station at 1:30 yesterday afternoon extinguished a grass fire at the extremity of 14th avenue along Danforth road. Just 25 minutes later, firemen at the No. 1 station put out a grass and rubbish fire at the rear of the residence at 209 South 6th street. Rubbish had been piled up at a telephone pole, firemen said, and a portion of the pole had burned away before the blaze was extinguished.

Ran Stop Sign—Adolph Sorenson, 122 West "A" street, Iron Mountain, paid a fine of $3 and $2 costs in justice court here yesterday when arraigned on a charge of running a stop sign at the intersection of Fifth avenue and 11th street. The charge was the result of an accident in which Sorenson's car, going north on 11th street, struck the auto driven west on Fifth avenue by Richard L'Heureux, 329 South 10th street. The left rear fender of the L'Heureux car and the right front fender of the Sorenson car were damaged.

Speeder Fined—Daniel Barron, Flat Rock, paid a fine of $3 and $2 costs in justice court here yesterday when arraigned on a charge of speeding on Stephenson avenue. Barron was issued a summons by city police.

Auto Doors Damaged—Automobile doors were damaged in a minor parking mishap in Escanaba when the car driven by Robert Larson, 806 Superior avenue, Gladstone, while backing away from the curb with the left side door of his auto open, collided with that driven by Marion Sullivan, 1302 Stephenson avenue. The left door of the Larson car and the right door of the Sullivan car were damaged.

Red Tag Sales Event Setting New Record

Today marks the third and final day of Escanaba's Red Tag sale, the greatest community-wide sales event in the history of the peninsula's shopping center, which has attracted thousands of eager shoppers, drawn by the unheard of bargains in every store and shop, and by the Red Tag prizes, valuable merchandise awards given each day.

Features of the final day will be the regular drawing for the final day's prizes, which include a $169.50 electric cabinet iron, $50 in men's clothing, a $14.95 wool blanket and a $9.95 electric iron. Following the final day's prize awards, the drawing for which will take place at 6:30 o'clock this evening at the Chamber of Commerce, the registration slips for all three days of the gigantic sales event will be combined and the drawing made for the grand prize, a $200 living room suite.

Separate Registration
Shoppers are reminded that today's registration is entirely separate from the first two days, and are invited to sign a registration slip in any of the stores participating in the Red Tag sale. It is not necessary to make a purchase to sign a registration slip, and you may register in everyone of the stores, if you wish, which is just what a great many of the downtown shoppers and visitors are doing.

Friday was a banner day in the sales event. In addition to registrations for prizes which numbered over 100,000 at 7 o'clock last evening, the airplane grocery special caused near riots. At noon Friday, Wally Arntzen of the Pioneer Aviation company flew over the city, dropping 3,000 ballots, which were promptly gathered up by the enthusiastic spectators. Twenty-five dollars worth of groceries, which is a real prize for anyone these days, was the special award in the airplane special.

Friday's Winner
Friday's winners of the Red Tag prizes, at the drawing at 9:30 o'clock last night at the Chamber of Commerce office are:
$187.50 Magnavox Duette Radio Phonograph Combination—Home Supply Co.—Mr. Jacob Koehler, 1315 N. 19th St., Escanaba.
$12.95 100% Wool Cannon Blanket—F. & G. Co.—John Hamm, 1110 Second Ave., N., Escanaba.

$11.50 Bersted Double Electric Waffle Iron—A. Baum Hardware—Virginia Weber, 1314 Second Ave. S., Escanaba.
$8.95 General Electric Iron—Montgomery Ward—J. O. Williams, 1321 First Ave. N., Escanaba.

Winner of the Airplane Grocery Special was Margaret Brown, 1316 N. 16th St., Escanaba.

Old-Fashioned Bargain Days
The Red Tag Sales event, a genuine old-fashioned bargain-day affair, which from its opening hour has been something to gladden the hearts and the purses of the shopping public, is expected to break all records and establish a new high in the history of community-wide sales when it comes to a close tonight. Arrangements for the three-day sale are in charge of a special committee, headed by John Fawcett.

Soap Shortage Frets Australia

Sydney (AP)—Sydney, Australia's biggest city, and some other heavily populated areas are suffering the greatest soap shortage in history.

Laundry soap became an under-the-counter line early this year and toilet soap has now virtually disappeared from retail displays.

Commerce Minister Reginald Pollard told a reporter the prime reason for the scarcity was a shortage of caustic soda and soda ash.

Retail Shopping Center

RED TAG DAYS, the first postwar co-operative merchandising event staged by the retail committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, is reported to have brought gratifying results the first two days. The sales promotion will end today, and quite likely it will be the forerunner of similar merchandising projects in the future.

During the war, the retail committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce had to forego the consistent promotion program that had made Escanaba an outstanding shopping center before Pearl Harbor. Wartime shortages of goods, government restrictions and scarcity of newspaper combined to squelch all such sales programs. But better days are here now, and Escanaba's enterprising merchants are promoting again.

Cooperative merchandising events, however, should be only a part of the postwar program to build a community as a shopping center. As soon as building restrictions are relaxed, stores should undergo long-delayed modernization programs.

It has grieved us to have old-time former residents return to Escanaba after years of absence and tell us that they find Ludington street store fronts the same as they were at the turn of the century. We have too many relics of the Victorian age on our main business thoroughfare. Conditions need not always remain so. In many other American communities, business men have gotten together, under the leadership of their chambers of commerce, and have launched campaigns to streamline and modernize their store fronts. We have to only follow their example.

V-J Day Is Quieter

CELEBRATION of the second anniversary of the capitulation of Japan in World War II was much quieter this year than last. Only a few Michigan cities held extensive observance programs, and in most instances industries and retail establishments remained open.

As the years roll by, we shall probably pay only passing attention to our war-inspired celebrations. Armistice day, growing out of World War I, has lost its stature with the passing years, and the Spanish-American war anniversaries pass by unnoticed.

The Fourth of July, a holiday commemorating the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776, has remained with us because of its long tradition, and its association with fireworks, parades and other merry-making. It likely will continue to be one of America's important holidays.

The day when Americans join to pay tribute to its war heroes is Memorial day. While this legal holiday is an outgrowth of the Civil war, its observance has been the occasion for honoring the memory of those who served in all later wars in the defense of their country. Memorial day programs are solemn and inspiring, devoid of the boisterousness that marks other observances of wartime happenings. It is to be hoped that it will always remain so.

Good Will Cruise

THE Escanaba Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a good will cruise to Washington Island on the ferry boat Griffon, leaving Escanaba Saturday, Sept. 6, and returning the following day.

It's a long time since Escanaba business men have gone on good will missions to other communities, and the Washington Island cruise offers a good opportunity to renew this commendable practice. Detroit, Grand Rapids and other large cities sponsor Great Lakes cruises of this type. Beside providing relaxation and recreation for the cruise participants, such events often return good business dividends.

Washington Island is a thriving community only 20 miles across Gren bay from Escanaba. In the past, its trade relations have been mostly with Sturgeon Bay and Green Bay, Wis., but there is no reason why the islanders could not be induced to come to Escanaba regularly, if adequate transportation facilities could be provided.

Anyway, Washington Island is a scenic and interesting place. It was the first Icelandic settlement in the United States, and many of its present citizens are descendants of that hardy band of immigrants from the rugged island in the North Atlantic. Washington islanders earn their livelihood from commercial fishing, farming and the tourist business. They are extremely hospitable and those who go on the C. of C. cruise are assured of an enjoyable weekend.

Prefabs in Bay State

A NEW law makes Massachusetts the first state to put prefabricated housing construction directly under state control and sponsorship regardless of local building code restrictions.

The National Association of Housing Officials reports that the new enactment makes it legally possible for a prefabricator to have the new features of his construction approved by a state board and then sell on a statewide market without city or county interference.

Massachusetts officials hope the law will expedite housing construction in areas where building code revision has lagged far behind recent developments in building materials and techniques. Few cities permit permanent construction of prefabricated dwellings.

The law directs the board of standards in the state department of public safety to set up performance standards to serve as basis for regulating prefabricated construction throughout the state. The board will be assisted by the attorney general, fire prevention board and other state officials.

In Massachusetts and elsewhere, cities in gradually increasing numbers are revising building codes to permit permanent prefabricated construction. Among the first to make such revisions last year were Leominster and Worcester, Mass.; and Jamestown, O. Rochester, N. Y., recently revised its code similarly.

The National Association of Housing Officials observes that though prefabricated construction has not been as extensive as postwar clamor indicated it might be, it may be expected to become eventually a standard practice. The Prefabricated Home Manufacturers Institute, meanwhile, reports that only 50 firms currently are turning out prefabricated houses, whereas 289 were a year ago.

Free Chest X-Rays

THE state health department is giving Upper Peninsula residents another opportunity to join in the fight against tuberculosis by bringing its mobile x-ray unit to the state fair at Escanaba next week.

Free x-ray examinations will be given to the public at the fairgrounds during the week. Only a minute of anyone's time is required to take an x-ray, but it may save many years of one's life. Early detection of evidence of tuberculosis is half the battle against this disease.

Modern sanatorium facilities and care have demonstrated that tuberculosis can be either cured or arrested, but it is necessary to begin the treatment before the ravages of the disease are too far advanced. If everyone would undergo x-ray examinations at reasonable intervals, there would be marked reduction in the tuberculosis death rate within not many years.

FOREST FIRES (Milwaukee Journal)

A major forest fire was burning, "out of control," in the upper peninsula of Michigan on Tuesday. California has had a half dozen major blazes in the last week. Louisiana reported more than 1,000,000 of forest fire damage during recent days.

Wisconsin has escaped major fires so far. There have been several hundred blazes this year but all have been promptly smothered by the fire fighting crews that are headquartered at Tomahawk and work out of strategically located ranger stations.

Beyond that, the Wisconsin conservation commission issued emergency fire prevention orders recently—to prohibit smoking in all except properly equipped places, the promiscuous setting of camp or brush fires, the tossing of cigarettes to roadsides, and some other practices.

The effectiveness of these regulations depends largely on the people. As they observe regulations and as they co-operate, the danger of another "scorched earth" tragedy in Wisconsin will diminish. As they don't, that danger will increase. For, clearly, no force of fire fighters can cope with dozens or hundreds of blazes set by campers, tourists, settlers or outright incendiaries. It takes only one such fire, getting out of control, to cause great destruction.

The magazine American Forests tells us that in one year "man caused fires in the nation as a whole jumped 40 per cent." It says there were 80 per cent more camper fires, 44 per cent more smoker fires, 53 per cent more carelessly set "debris" fires; also, that incendiaries were responsible for the greatest number of fires—19,000. This is three times the number caused by lightning, four times the number caused by railroads, and 15 times the number due to logging operations.

The magazine urges "more education." Wisconsin's filling stations, tourist's bureaus, and local police forces in the forest areas will help along by using every opportunity to warn of the fire danger.

Take My Word For It

Frank Colby

WHAT'S THE ORIGIN?

The word curefew is an English corruption of the French couvre-feu, "cover fire." In parts of Europe during the Middle Ages a law required householders to cover or extinguish their lights and fires on the stroke of a bell in the evening. The sounding of the bell was called couvre-feu, which became the English curefew and lost all association with the act of covering fires or lights.

"As poor as Job's turkey" is a saying that is more than a century old. It refers to an imaginary turkey which had the qualities of patience and poverty of its "owner." Job. Of course the turkey was unknown in Biblical days, for the bird is a native of North America.

In the 1800s, the saying was very popular in the United States and people used to give it many comical variations, saying, "As poor as Job's turkey that had but one feather to its tail," or, "... that had to lean against a fence to gobble," or, "... that was too lean to cast a shadow." The poor bird and the proverbial church mouse have a good deal in common.

The origin of "face the music" is uncer-

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—Hardly a week passes without a printed report that some high federal office is to be offered to former Sen. Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin. It has become something of a joke with the former senator, who is now comfortably established in his own offices in Washington as economic consultant to several large corporations.

The explanation for these repeated rumors is not hard to find, La Follette's ability and his integrity were confirmed repeatedly during his years in the senate. Add to this the fact that able men willing to accept responsible public assignments appear to be as scarce as hen's teeth.

Most of the La Follette rumors are baseless. Or they have such a shadowy relation to truth that no actual offer is ever conveyed to La Follette.

—ON RESOURCES COMMITTEE—

Strangely enough, the only position in government that the former senator has accepted since his defeat a year ago has almost entirely escaped attention. La Follette is a member of the committee which President Truman named to survey the resources of the United States in connection with the Marshall plan for the reconstruction of Europe. Secretary of Commerce W. Averell Harriman is chairman.

While he is only one of nineteen members, who are unpaid and whose work has so far received little attention, La Follette's role is nevertheless highly significant.

His appointment came at the "suggestion" of his long-time friend Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg. The President had made out a list of names to be appointed to the resources committee and, as is so often the case with such public bodies, they had a somewhat stale and familiar sound.

Vandenberg felt strongly that something more was required, since public acceptance of the resources report could conceivably turn on the degree of faith inspired by the members of the committee. Among Vandenberg's "suggestions" were La Follette and elder statesman Owen D. Young. Both men accepted the presidential appointment.

It is easy to say, of course, that America cannot afford not to help Europe out of the collapse produced by the war. If Europe cannot buy our goods and exports have already begun to turn down then we shall feel the effects here in declining payrolls and curtailed profits.

But with a continuing high level of demand in this country for most of the products of our farms and factories, this seems remote and theoretical. Scarcities and high prices particularly for a place to live breed an attitude summed up by "Let's take care of our own people before we help out any foreigners."

—WAS PRE-WAR ISOLATIONIST—

Those who have thought seriously about the problem of public acceptance for the Marshall program—and Vandenberg is one of them—are well aware of such attitudes. It is one reason why they were eager to have La Follette take a part.

In the years leading up to Pearl Harbor, he was an isolationist. This was in the tradition of his father, "Fighting Bob" La Follette, who was pilloried for his efforts to keep the country out of World War I. During two crises which eventually led to war, the La Follettes held that the surest way to keep America free was to strengthen democracy here at home and avoid all foreign entanglements.

If the present head of the La Follette clan should now be convinced that America can and must spend more of her resources to stabilize the world then other mid-westerners with the isolationist slant would be impressed. That was the belief of those who persuaded the former senator to serve with the group now casting up the American balance sheet.

La Follette has been made head of a subcommittee that will draft the report. He will draw on the raw material of facts being compiled by Secretary of Interior Julius A. Krug and his subcommittee, and the economic-financial facts to be supplied by Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of the President's Council of economic advisers.

There is good reason to believe that La Follette's world outlook has undergone a change. Involvement in two world wars has inextricably tied the United States to Europe. Moreover, La Follette is actually aware of Soviet Russia's world ambitions. The report he finally helps to draft should contribute immeasurably to the decision America must make.

I have found three theories as to how this expression originated:

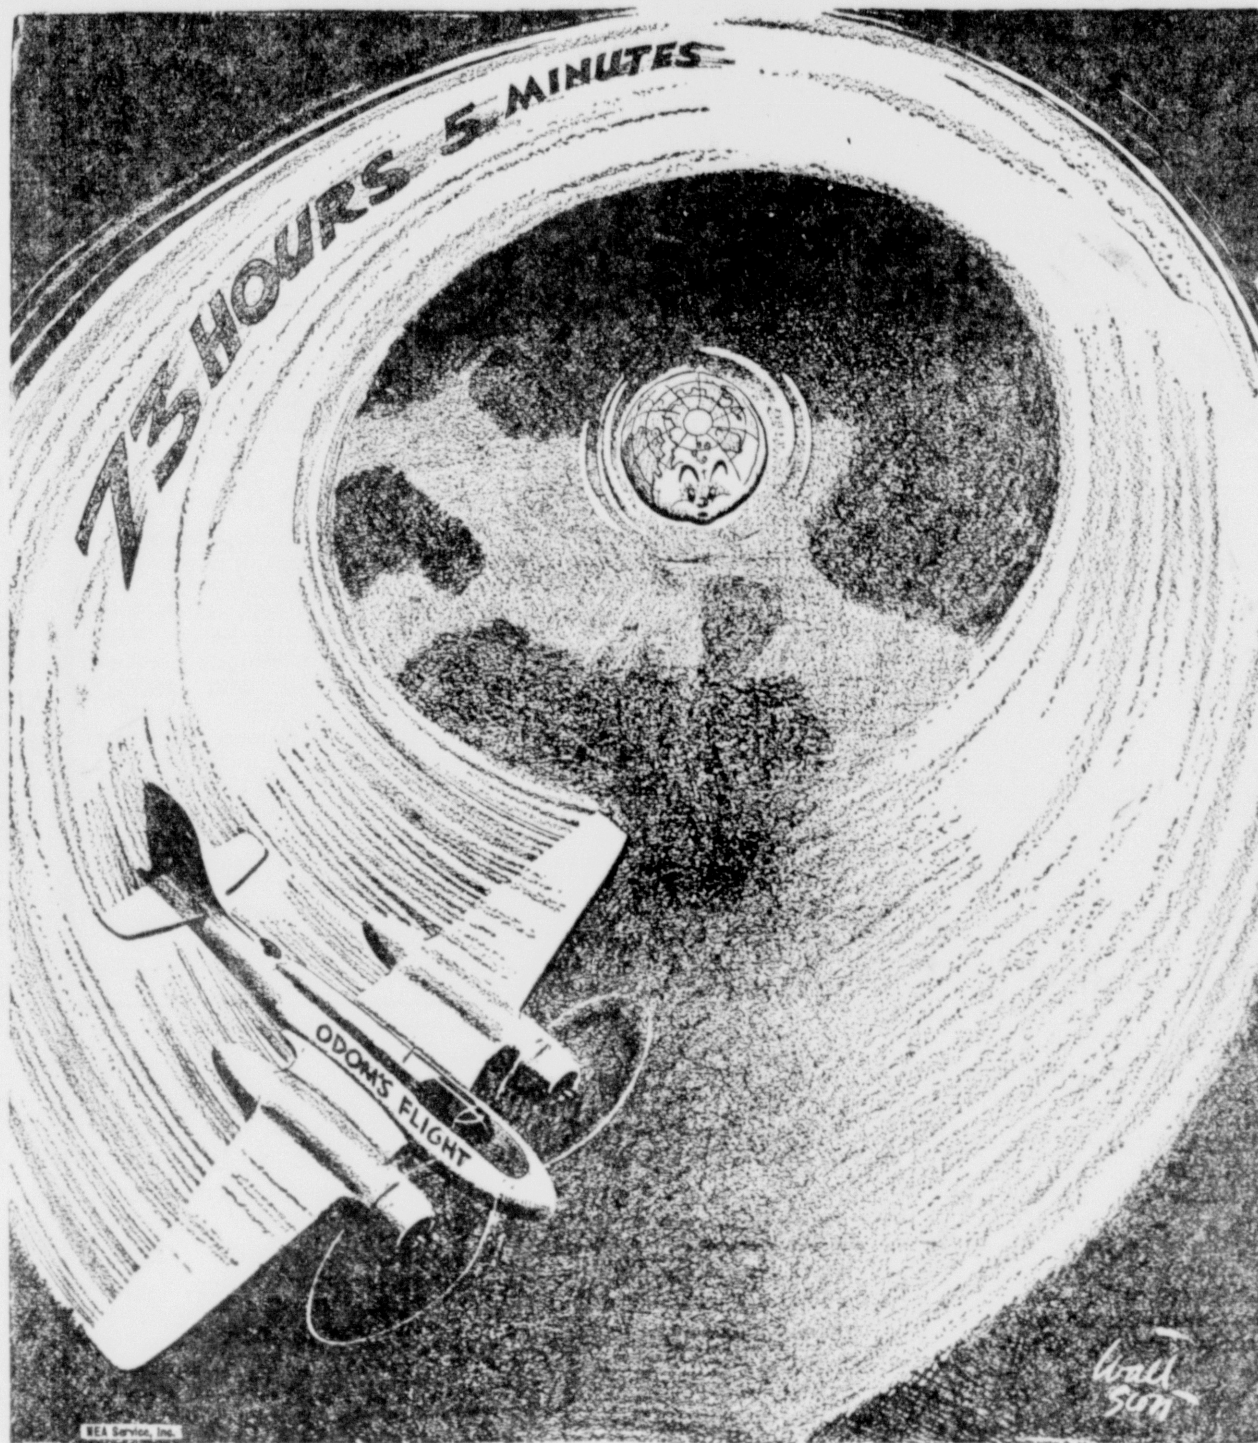

1. It is of theatrical origin, first being used by actors who were nervously preparing to go before the footlights and literally face the music (the orchestra or pianist).
2. It is traced to the military formation, such as retreat. The soldier in full equipment, stands at attention and faces the music.
3. At a military execution, the condemned one is made to stand facing both the firing squad and the music—that is, the bugler or the drum and bugle corps.

"Well heeled" is probably traceable to the jargon of the cockpit. The spur or gaff on the lower leg of a game cock is often called a heel. The bird that has a good natural spur or a well-placed steel gaff is said to be well heeled, hence quite able to give a good account of himself.

Which is correct? "She is one of those girls who (are) is?" always on the go? The "one of" construction is a stumbling block to most of us. But my ONE OF pamphlet makes the usage instantly clear by means of a simple, nontechnical key. For a free copy, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Frank Colby, in care of this paper.

In Hollywood, everyone liked Johnny Meyer, and not just for Howard Hughes' money, either. It was his job to help end Hughes' money. And Hollywood, which says "after all, it's just money," figures you can't blame a fellow for that.

Hollywood—Someone said to a Hollywood producer: "Why don't you film the life story of Johnny Meyer?"

The producer winced. "I can't afford it," he said. "That guy spends more on a dinner guest than I do on an actor's salary."

Johnny Meyer never has been a rich man. I first met him in 1938 when he was a $50-a-week movie extra, but in fabulous Hollywood the fellows with the beer salaries always can go on champagne diets if they're smart.

Johnny Meyer was smart. He turned beer into champagne by associating with the right people. First it was Errol Flynn, then it was Howard Hughes. In a couple of years, according to the Senate's inquiry, Johnny, as Hughes' free-spending publicity man, spent $150,000 on the entertainment of Army and Navy officers and other officials.

It was easy for Johnny. He had developed a super knack for spending money—other people's money. His own $175 a week he carefully banked.

Meyer's background is hazy even to Hollywood, where he has lived for 10 years. His mother lives on a side street here, but no one has ever seen her. According to friends, Meyer is a Cleveland, O., boy who graduated from the University of Ohio and went to New York on a typical college boy's spree. He has been, friends say, on a spree ever since.

Meyer arrived in Hollywood in 1937 when he was 31. The first job he had was press agent for the old Tijuana race track. Then he popped up as a movie extra at $50 a week. Everyone liked him. He was always ready for a party. "Make a noise like a party and Johnny Meyer will show up," ran a Hollywood gag current in those days.

At one party he met Errol Flynn. They had something in common and became pals. Through Flynn, Meyer graduated from an extra to a $175-a-week publicity man in the Warner studio. His number one job was to keep Flynn happy. During one of Errol Flynn's trials on charges brought by girls—I forget just which one—the girl testified she was introduced to Errol by Johnny Meyer.

Shortly after the trial, Meyer was introduced to Howard Hughes. After that Meyer became practically a landmark in Hollywood nightclubs. You couldn't miss him. There would be a couple of dazzling girls, a well-laid champagne bucket and Johnny, and the name of Howard Hughes on the checks.

Johnny could do the impossible. One morning, so the story goes, he called up Fay Emerson from New York. "We're to have a party in New York tonight," he said. "Elliott Roosevelt wants you to come. How about it?"

Fay protested about the distance between Hollywood and New York, plus the difficulty in getting plane tickets, what with a war going on. "Relax, baby," said Meyer. A half hour later a messenger brought the plane tickets to her house, and Fay flew to New York and was back in Hollywood the next day.

In Hollywood, everyone liked Johnny Meyer, and not just for Howard Hughes' money, either. It was his job to help end Hughes' money. And Hollywood, which says "after all, it's just money," figures you can't blame a fellow for that.

INTO THE PAST

YOUR INFORMATION SERVICE

What do you want to know? We will answer questions on any subject not involving extended research. Legal or medical advice cannot be given. Write your question clearly, sign your name and address, and (IMPORTANT) Mail This Coupon and a 3-cent stamped self-addressed envelope to Daily Press Service Bureau, 1217 Thirteenth St., Washington 5, D. C., for a personal reply. Don't telephone; write as directed.

Q. Are isotopes used in geographical calculations?

A. No. They are one of two or more elements having the same atomic number identical in chemical behavior. Because of their differences in mass, isotopes may be distinguished in the mass spectrograph and in band spectra. The number of isotopes of each element is increasing by discovery or by manufacture. They are becoming increasingly more important in chemical observations and discoveries of new elements and properties.

Q. Where is the "Tourist Empire of the Island Seas"?
A. Upper Peninsula, Michigan. Michigan has a shore line of 3,121 miles washed by Lakes Erie, St. Clair, Huron, Superior and Michigan. The Peninsula itself, is a sea of green dotted by numerous lakes.

Q. What is the name given to the English translation of the New Testament published at Wittenberg in 1526?

A. This, as well as the English translation of the Pentateuch, published at Hamburg in 1530, are known as Tyndale's Bible. These translations were the basis for the following: the Great Bible (1539-1541) of the reign of Henry VIII; of the Bishop's Bible (1568-1572) of the reign of Elizabeth; of the King's Bible (1611) of the reign of James I; and of the revised version (1870-1884) of the reign of Victoria.

Q. Is it true that service-incurred disabilities of 10% or more, correctable by mechanical devices (hearing aids or eyeglasses), are not compensable?

A. If a disability is correctable by mechanical devices, as eyeglasses or hearing aids, the Veterans Administration may not award any disability compensation. The awarding of compensation depends upon the circumstances of an individual case.

Q. Do many States have literacy tests?

A. Twenty. They are: Alabama, Arizona, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, Virginia, Washington, Wyoming.

Q. Approximately how many Army personnel actually saw combat during World War II?

A. Approximately 32% of the estimated 10,300,000 persons (male and female) who served in the Army between December 1, 1941 and August 1, 1945 actually saw combat.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

ROBERT S. ALLEN

(Editor's Note: While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by his old partner, Robert S. Allen.)

Washington—The Washington Merry-Go-Round today repeats one of its oldest and most gratifying practices.

It bestows its brass ring for distinguished, enlightened and courageous service.

The honor goes to a group of working newspapermen.

These members of the working press are not "big name" personalities in the usual sense of that word. Some are syndicated. But except for their bylines, none are widely known personally to their readers. They are not that kind of newsmen.

They don't make news; they report it—honestly, courageously, tenaciously, and with outstanding skill and understanding. To their readers, the bylines of these newsmen are an unfailing trade mark of integrity and reliability.

There are many other newsmen like them all over the U. S. Men and women who, day in and day out, quietly and modestly fight the good fight to get the news and to print it. That's why the working press of the U. S. is the finest in the world. Also, why it is one of the greatest glories of our country.

Occasionally, one of these "unknowns" wins momentary public recognition for some particularly outstanding feat. But the great majority of them, like doughboys in the lines, slug it out doggedly and valiantly day after day with no other acclaim than the inner satisfaction of doing a good job.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round considers it an honor to single out a few of these heroes of the working press and call them to the attention of their fellow Americans. They are worthy of their country's approbation.

The decoration of the brass ring is herewith bestowed on the following for exceptionally meritorious service to their country and their profession:

Stanley Woodward, sports editor of the New York Herald Tribune, whose ringing expose last spring of a mutiny plot by certain St. Louis Cardinals' players against Jackie Robinson, Negro rookie of the Brooklyn Dodgers, was in the highest tradition of American journalism. Woodward's forthright articles smashed this sinister manifestation of race discrimination before it could spread, and thus saved a great national sport from a destructive scandal.

Fifty-two years old, tall, heavy-set, Woodward was born in Worcester, Mass., and was graduated from Amherst. Rejected for military service in World War I because of defective eyesight, he served as an ordinary seaman in the Merchant Marine. After ten years' newspapering in Boston, he became a sports writer on the Herald Tribune in 1930 and was made sports editor eight years later. He has developed a crack staff which swears by him as a friend and boss.

Robert E. "Fleet" Williams, editorial and political writer of the Raleigh, N. C., News and Observer, who is one of the ablest, most courageous and liberal newsmen of the south. After five rejections on physical grounds by his local draft board, Williams literally forced his way finally into the army in World War I. By a personal appeal to the state board. One of his greatest prides is that he served overseas as an infantry private. Born in Virginia, Williams has covered every type of story, from police to international conferences. A Williams byline is "must" reading for news and observer readers.

Herb Block, cartoonist of the Washington Post, whose daily single-panel commentary of national and world affairs and personalities is without peer. Block says more in one of his cartoons than a squad of punting columnists in eight columns of copy. Some of his creations, notably "Mr. Atom," are devastating and equal to the best produced by David Low, famed British cartoonist.

Born in Chicago 37 years ago, shy and soft-spoken, Block started cartooning while still in grammar school. At the age of 17 he was a full-fledged cartoonist on a Chicago paper. He served as an enlisted man in the army during the war and joined the Washington Post staff in 1946. A bachelor, Block looks more like a school-teacher than a cartoonist, but today his brilliant daily panel appears in 130 newspapers.

Richard S. Davis, political reporter of the Milwaukee Journal who is known locally as "The Conscience of City Hall." An old-timer in journalism, Davis has been a member of the Journal's staff since 1918 and has handled many of its biggest and hottest stories. He is the dread of boodlers and the spearhead of decency and progress. Several years ago he single-handedly forced through a slum-clearance program by a series of blasting articles.

Charles Raudebaugh, general assignment ace of the San Francisco Chronicle, who is equally brilliant in exposing a sordid abortion racket or at covering the United Nations. His vivid and dynamic chapter on San Francisco in "Our Fair City," best-selling study on municipal rule in the U. S., earned plain-talking Raudebaugh the enmity of the chief of police—and the plaudits of his home town.

Marshall McNeil, Ruth Finney, and Daniel Kidney

HIS HONOR THE EX-MAYOR—Chicago's Democratic political boss, Former Mayor Edward Kelly, visited Escanaba with his party on Wednesday, arriving at the House of Ludington shortly after Gov. Kim Sigler had finished his address to the U. P. Law Enforcement Officers association. Kelly was in time to be caught for a WDBC radio interview by Tony Flynn, however. In the above picture, left to right, are: Mrs. Kelly, Mr. Kelly, Tony Flynn and J. C. Thompson, president of the Chicago Civic Opera Company.

GROUP GOES TO WORKSHOP

Stephenson Community Is Represented At Clear Lake

Stephenson, Mich.—Nine persons from Stephenson and the surrounding townships left Sunday morning to attend a workshop on community problems which is being held at the Clear Lake camp near Shingleton from Aug. 11 to 31 inclusive. The conference is planned to give its participants an opportunity to study its vital community problems with persons from other communities and with nationally known authorities on community problems.

Community residents from Mesick, Elkton, Concord, Rockford and Stephenson will be represented at the conference. The five communities have been selected by the Department of Public Instruction to participate in the experimental Community School Service program. The persons attending are:

Fred Vescolani, Nadeau township; Rev. L. Bourgeois, Nadeau township; Fanny Springsteen, Elizabeth Brown, Stephenson township; Jane Barstow, Cedarville township; Mrs. Howard Parrett, Mrs. Fred Strom, Mrs. K. Pollard, Stephenson; Mrs. William Johnson, Daggett township.

Other persons who expect to attend the conference for part of the time will be: Judith Morton, Joseph B. Gucky, Herbert Corey, Marcell Nadeau, Stephenson.

Dr. Howard McClusky of the University of Michigan is in charge of the camp.

Schools Open Sept. 4
The Stephenson public schools will open officially on Tuesday,

Sept. 2. However, the first two days of the week will be devoted to a pre-school conference for the teachers. The grade and high school students will enroll on Thursday morning, Sept. 4.

A major portion of the school building has been renovated and will be ready when school opens.

Travel To Lansing
Four persons from the Stephenson area motored to East Lansing Wednesday to attend the Home and Family Living Conference which is being held at the Michigan State College. The conference has been arranged for persons from the experimental communities in home and family living. The persons attending were: Mrs. John Heidenreich, Daggett township; Mrs. Herbert Corey, Stephenson township; Mrs. Earl Desmille, Lake township; Miss Mary Mueller, Home Demonstration Agent, Menominee.

Community Cannery Open
The Stephenson community cannery opened this week and vegetables and fruit are now being processed and preserved. The facilities of the cannery are open to any person in Stephenson or any of the surrounding townships. The foodstuffs are prepared, and preserved in metal or glass containers. Metal containers are available at the cannery cost. Persons interested in using the canning facilities may do so by appointment. Appointments should be made with Mrs. Myrtle Corey who is the instructor and who has charge of the cannery.

Attend Conference
Eight persons from the mid-county area attended a conference at Battle Creek last week. The conference was called by the department of public instruction for the superintendents, board of education members, and general chairmen of the community school service programs in the state. The delegation from the Stephenson area was as follows: Clifford Hayward, Lake township; Don Rivard, Daggett Township; Gilbert Lucke, Fred Vescolani, Nadeau township; Wolfgang Raitmeier, Holmes township; Ann Fleming, Daggett township; Joseph B. Gucky, Gerald Martin, Stephenson township.

Each of the five participating communities: namely, Stephenson, Concord, Elkton, Rockford and Mesick were given an opportunity to review their community school service programs.

The conference was held at the St. Mary's Lake camp just outside of Battle Creek. The State Budget Director Perkins and other members of the Department of Public Instruction were present and participated in the discussions of community problems.

Movie Films Will Be Exhibited Daily At U. P. Fair Here

Movies will be shown in the "little theatre" in the exhibition building afternoons and evenings during the Upper Peninsula State Fair Aug. 19 to 24. The movie schedule will be as follows: 1 p. m., Michigan State Health department films; 2:30 p. m., Michigan Conservation department; 3 p. m., Forest Service; and 7 p. m., Upper Peninsula Development bureau. Some cancer films will be shown during the week.

CC Directors' Job

Ways and means of increasing the enrollment of the Manistique-Schoolcraft Chamber of Commerce membership was discussed at the current meeting of Chamber directors Wednesday evening.

Records show that 192 businessmen and resort owners who were counted on for support in the coming year have not as yet turned in their checks for membership. One hundred and seven new and old members have joined thus far.

"Although we have no fear that most of those who have not joined will eventually join, we would like to have them attend to this matter at once," Leonard Mulhaupt, Chamber secretary, says.

The annual report of the organization, setting forth the number of activities in which the Chamber of Commerce has participated, was recently published. One item, however, could not appear at that time and that was the service as tourist information bureau which the Chamber is conducting for the resort owners of the area and for the community in general. A total of 802 tourists called at the office during July.

At Wednesday's meeting the Chamber directors moved to have welcome signs placed at both entrances to the city on US-2.

Two Grass Blazes

Fire Chief Elmer Boal is asking smokers to use the utmost care in disposing of burnt matches, and cigar and cigarette butts. Due to the long continued dry spell, grass is unusually dry and serious fires can result from carelessness of this sort.

Friday the department was called out to put out two grass fires. One fire was near the paper mill and the other on North Fifth street. There was no property damage in either case but the blaze on Fifth street came dangerously near the S. Ness residence.

SOLEMN RITES MARK JUBILEE

Special Blessing Is Sent By Apostolic Delegate

Fifty years as a Catholic priest, nearly 40 of which were spent in Manistique as pastor of the local parish, were noted with impressive rites and the presence of church notables of high rank at a solemn high mass honoring the Rev. Fr. B. J. P. Scheyers at St. Francis de Sales Catholic church Friday morning.

It had been planned that Father Scheyers, himself, would celebrate the golden jubilee mass, but he has been in poor health and only a few days ago returned from St. Vincent's hospital in Green Bay, Wis., and the privilege was bestowed upon the Rev. Robert Sromovsky, O. Praem., a native of Manistique, a member of St. Norbert's college faculty. The Rev. Dr. McKough officiated as deacon and Martin Melican, pastor of St. Patrick's church in Escanaba, also a native of Manistique, was sub-deacon.

The sermon was given by the Very Rev. Dennis Burke, prior of St. Norbert's Abbey, West Deperre, Wis., who spoke of the faithfulness with which he administered his trust. He spoke glowingly of Father Scheyers' devotion to his parish which never diminished even when he suffered severely from physical ailments. No sick person, said Father Burke, was ever neglected by the pastor of St. Francis church.

At the close of the mass the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Joseph L. Zryd, administrator of the Roman Catholic diocese of Marquette, spoke in praise and appreciation of Father Scheyers and his work as pastor here.

Also at this time a message was read from the apostolic delegate at Washington, D. C., conveying a blessing from Pope Pius XII upon Father Scheyers and his parishioners.

Two special vocal numbers were sung by Mrs. Rose Patrick, "Ave Maria" at the offertory and "Benedictus" following the consecration of the mass.

More than 50 priests and dignitaries of the church were present at the services and were guests at a dinner served at the William Corson home following the mass.

Parishioners noted with great satisfaction the presence of Father Scheyers at the sanctuary and that he has made satisfactory improvement in health.

McMillan

Terry-Skinner
McMillan, Mich.—Miss Lois Skinner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Skinner became the bride of Charles Terry of Royal Oak at 2:00 p. m. Tuesday, Aug. 12 at the home of her parents, before members of the immediate family. Rev. R. A. Garrison of the Presbyterian church of Newberry read the ceremony.

The bride chose a cocoa brown gabardine suit with white accessories. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and a gardenia corsage.

Dr. and Mrs. M. B. Purdy of Newberry, sister and brother-in-law of the bride were the only attendants. Mrs. Purdy chose a powder blue suit with white accessories.

At 6:30 in the evening a wedding dinner was served at Blaney Park. The table was attractively decorated with garden flowers and centered with a three tier wedding cake.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Esther Shelton of Manistee, an aunt of the bride and Louis Hartwick of Marquette, the bride's uncle.

Daily Vacation Bible School
Mr. and Mrs. John Heykoop and their daughter, Lois, conducted daily vacation Bible school at West Lakefield and McMillan.

One week, all day Bible school at West Lakefield school house. The average attendance was 50 a day. Forty-two of those received certificates for perfect attendance. Special awards were given to Phyllis Bryers, Nellie Grames and Joyce Bryers. At the close of the week a program was given at the school house.

One week all day Bible school at McMillan Methodist church was held the following week. The average daily attendance was 60. Forty-three of those received certificates for perfect attendance. Special awards were given to Katherine Simmerman, Margaret Nash and Eleanor Simmerman.

Fun Is Fun, But Ex-Soldier Goes Mite Far As Skyrocket Bomb Bursts At Barber Shop

Munising. — A Fourth of July skyrocket bomb shot from a 12-foot logging trailer breech landed in front of a barber shop on Elm avenue with a terrific report yesterday afternoon, smashing a large plate glass window of the building and bringing a large crowd of surprised people out into the street from surrounding establishments.

Chief of Police Urban Trombley, who immediately investigated the incident, said the bomb was shot by William Cox Jr., Munising man who is approximately 23 years of age and an ex-soldier. The chief said Cox would probably be charged with violation of a city ordinance prohibiting shooting firecrackers over 3 inches without permission.

Tables Turned On Bruins—Cub Bear Caught Up A Tree

Munising. — There's probably a number of men who have been up a tree with a bear below looking on, but Thursday evening the tables were turned on the bruins when a bear was up a tree with a man on the ground looking at him.

No, it wasn't a game of man chasing bear but rather an unfortunate incident in the life of a small cub who became caught in a coyote trap near Hanley field Thursday.

H. A. Lawrence accompanied by his wife were picking blueberries near the air field Thursday evening, when Mr. Lawrence heard a series of growling whines which he recognized as the utterances of a bear in distress. Searching the area further, he and his wife came upon a cub bear hugging the trunk of a tree. Closer observation showed the bear's foot was caught in a trap and that the trap's chain restraining stick was caught in the underbrush around the trees.

The mother bear, the Lawrences soon found out, stood a short distance away, worried about the plight of her offspring but unable to help the cub except to stand guard. A few growls from the mother bear accompanied by threatening gestures, made Mr. Lawrence decide that it would be a two-man job to get that cub free.

Leaving the area, the Lawrences returned to Munising where Mr. Lawrence engaged Chief of Police Urban Trombley and Patrolman Cook to return to Hanley field and help the cub bear to break away.

Luckily for the men, the mother bear had left the scene when they arrived and with the aid of a dog catcher's pole and rope, the men freed the cub without benefit of mother bear's kibitzing.

Chief Trombley said the job was rather simple as the cub's head was caught over the limb of the tree and it was unable to bite at Lawrence when he reached up and released the trap. As soon as the trap was sprung, however, Trombley added, the cub climbed to the top of the fifteen foot tree where it decided to stay until Lawrence shinned up after it and with the aid of a good sized switch changed its mind.

The trap hadn't damaged the cub's foot very much, Trombley said, as the bear ran off on all four legs as soon as it reached the ground.

Patrolman Cook had been standing by with a rifle during the rescue just in case, the chief remarked.

Officials Hope Public Leaves Benches In Park

Munising. — Five new varnished natural wood benches which will seat three persons each have been placed in public park by the Munising public works department for the convenience of the public.

Benches were placed in the park a few years ago, but in a short time were destroyed by vandals, city officials said. Some were cut up for firewood and others thrown into the bay. The new benches, it was reported, are not chained down, but officials hope all persons will respect public property.

Floodlights placed in the park a few weeks ago have been wrecked beyond operating condition, with only one exception. Police patrolling the area said the lights were operating at midnight a few nights ago, but that by 2 a. m. two had been smashed. The lights may not be replaced.

Rumley Boy Injured By Mowing Machine

Munising. — Larry Luedeman, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Luedeman of Rumley, had his legs seriously mangled by a mowing machine on the family farm Wednesday noon, relatives here reported yesterday.

Larry was riding on the mower with his father and cousin, Eugene Golenda, when the accident occurred, relatives said. The boy was attempting to get off the mower when he fell down under the machine. He was taken to the St. Luke's hospital in Marquette.

The boy's grandmother, Mrs. Louis Bodett, who is seriously ill, resides in Munising and was reported to have taken a turn for the worse, suffering another heart attack when she was informed of the accident. Mrs. Bodett lives at 111 Varnum street.

According to the chief's report, Cox said he shot the bomb from the trailer breech just for the fun of it thinking the bomb would explode in the air.

The trailer from which the bomb was fired is one of a number standing along the east side of the Cox garage on Munising avenue and consists of only the metal framework and wheels of a conventional logging type unit. The breech from which the bomb was projected sets on about a 45 degree angle when the front piece of the frame-work is resting on the ground, thus giving the entire structure an appearance much like the Army's 75 mm. anti-tank guns or other larger field pieces. In order to fire the bomb, Cox leaned a ladder against the breech, climbed up and dropped the giant cracker down the barrel.

In its flight the bomb passed over the two story Cowell building on Munising avenue, across one of the busiest sections of Elm avenue into the Godell barber-shop window; a distance of approximately 75 feet. Fortunately there was no one on the street in the immediate vicinity of the exploding bomb. If there had been, the police chief said, the concussion and flying glass could have killed them or caused serious injury.

Judge Fines Two In Justice Court

Munising. — Earl Drake, Munising, arraigned in justice court before Judge John A. Vizona Thursday afternoon, paid a fine of $5 and court costs of $3.35 on a charge of parking his automobile in the immediate vicinity of a city fire hydrant.

Walter Neimi, Au Train, arraigned yesterday paid fines totaling $7 and court costs of $6.70 on three different charges. They were operating his motor vehicle without an operator's license; and having defective brakes and defective lights on his automobile.

The summons for Neimi was issued by State Trooper John Carstenson.

Bat-Balmy Browns Whitewashed Again By Indians, 2 to 0

St. Louis, Aug. 15 (AP)—Bob Lemon and the Cleveland Indians handed the weak-hitting St. Louis Browns their second successive white-washing tonight, 2 to 0. Lemon stopped the Browns with 3 hits, while Ken Keltner drove in both Cleveland runs with a double and single. Stub Overmire of the Detroit Tigers blanked the Browns with four hits last night.

Sam Zoldak also hurled well for the Browns, but was a victim of bunched hits. The Indians tallied in the second when Bill Robinson beat out a bunt, advanced on a passed ball and counted on Keltner's double to right. They added another in the sixth on singles by Hal Peck and Lou Boudreau, a fielder's choice on which Peck was trapped off third, and Keltner's single.

Lemon aided his own cause by starting two double plays and tossing out four other batters. The Browns' only serious threat

Truman's Doctrine Solidifies Unity Of Russian Satellites

BY DANIEL DELUCE

Belgrade, (AP)—Six months of the Truman Doctrine, as viewed from Pro-Soviet Belgrade, has nearly liquidated American influence in countries of the Soviet zone in Southeastern Europe.

It has closed the ranks of the border states which depend on Russia's confidence for their security. It has engulfed the little war-weary peoples in fear that another war is almost inevitable.

It has been used to charge America with protecting those who would take back land that had been given to impoverished peasants, restore industries to foreign capitalists, and drive the left underground.

The troubles in Greece, according to opinion in this part of Europe, is now the responsibility of the U. S. State Department.

To the border states, the measure of American motives in the conduct of the Monarchy in Athens. There is obvious dread that the Greek civil war may endanger the continent.

I have been talking to Communists in Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Yugoslavia this summer, and I could discover no war fever in any of them. If they accurately reflect Communist leadership in Moscow, then there is also no war fever there.

I talked, too, with many citizens of these countries who were not Communists, loved Russia not at all, and were, by birth and training, accustomed to looking westward.

These Non-Communists were as scathing as the Communists in attacking the Truman doctrine because, they said, it had needlessly widened the breach between Washington and Moscow.

What was really upsetting to an American was their common question: Is America seeking war? Apparently enough public utterances are made in the United States, and widely quoted abroad, to stir that doubt.

Their comment was that west and east are facing a "winter of decision." If the Foreign Ministers fail again in London, so ran their thought, "it will be all over but choosing sides."

Win Keeps Cards In Thick Of Fight For Loop Pennant

Pittsburgh, Aug. 15 (AP)—The second-place St. Louis Cardinals kept in the thick of the National League pennant race tonight by overpowering their way to a 7-4 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates before a crowd of 35,344. Ralph Kiner drove in all four Buc runs with his 31st and 32nd homers of the year and the Cards countered with circuit clouts by Stan Musial, George Kurowski and Del Rice.

Big George Munger won his 10th victory of the year although he was knocked out of the box in the 8th after Kiner had smashed his 32nd homer of the season to score Gustine ahead of him. Ted Wilks put out the fire after coming to the mound with two men on and only one out.

Kiner put the Pirates ahead 2-0 in the first inning, clouting his first homer of the night to score Gustine who had singled.

Kurowski's 17th homer of the season tied the game in the fourth, scoring Ron Northey who had singled. A moment later Rice homered to sent the Cards ahead.

Musial, who had been honored at pre-game ceremonies by fellow townsmen from Donora, Pa., tracked out an inside-the-park homer to open the fifth. Before the inning was over the Cards scored two more runs on Enos Slaughter's double, a walk, an intentional pass and Marty Marion's single. Marion also doubled to bring home the Cards' seventh run in the seventh.

Ernie Bonham was the losing pitcher. St. Louis ... 000 330 100—7 13 0 Pittsburgh ... 200 000 020—4 10 1 Munger, Wilks (8) and Rice; Bonham, Lyons (5), Higbe (9) and Howell.

DODDS HAS FORMULA
Falls City, Nebr., Aug. 15 (AP)—The "Flying Parson" of the indoor track, Gil Dodds, says he knows the formula for the four minute mile. But he isn't sure his track career will last long enough for him to turn in the long-sought record. The four minute mile is not impossible, Dodds said in an interview during his current visit to his old home town.

Carolina Officers Mix In Gun Battle; 3 Killed, 2 Wounded

Lancaster, S. C., Aug. 15 (AP)—Three men were killed and a fourth wounded seriously in two battles and as a result James B. Patterson, 31, ex-police chief of Waxhaw, N. C., lay under armed guard in a hospital here tonight with four pistol bullets in his body.

Sheriff W. B. Evans said that no charges had been placed against Patterson pending an inquest here tomorrow. The shootings occurred late yesterday.

The dead are: Constable Coleman McAteer, 36, of Lancaster; Luther Miller and Isahiah Brown, both negroes, of Waxhaw. Deputy Sheriff Oscar Adams of Lancaster county was wounded in the right hand and his lower right arm was amputated.

Union county Sheriff said that Miller and Brown were killed in a shooting fray with Patterson in Waxhaw and that Patterson and Adams were wounded and McAteer killed in a gun battle across the South Carolina line early last night.

Marshall Appeals For More Food To Aid World Recovery

Washington, Aug. 15 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall says lack of food is slowing down world reconstruction and "strengthening the hands of those opposed to the democracy of free governments."

"Every human, economic and world political interest of the United States indicates that we should do what is within our power to assist in overcoming this evil state of affairs," he said in a radio broadcast recorded for NBC before he left for Rio de Janeiro.

Appealing for added efforts to meet the "urgent demands" of the hungry, Marshall called for increased production by American farmers and exertion of "every energy" by manufacturers and distributors to move the foodstuffs to the ports.

Braves Nip Giants By 8-7 And Replace Them In 3rd Place

Boston, Aug. 15 (AP)—The Boston Braves outslugged the New York Giants, 8-7 today and as a result replaced the Giants in third place in the National League pennant scramble by three percentage points.

Nanny Fernandez climaxed an uphill battle for the Braves by singling home Earl Torgerson with the winning run in the ninth inning.

The Braves jumped on Starter Larry Jansen for three runs in the first inning on doubles by Tommy Holmes, Bama Rowell, a barge out, walk and another two-bagger by Conn Ryan.

After the Giants had tied the count by scoring once in the second and twice in the fourth, the Braves routed Jansen and moved ahead again by pushing three runs home in the fifth on a double by Holmes, singles by Johnny Hopp and Rowell, another two-bagger by Bob Elliott, a walk and fly out.

The Giants drove Relieve Ed Wright to cover with a four-run blast in the seventh that Walker Cooper climaxed with a three-run homer, his 26th of the season.

Wright re-deadlocked the count in the eighth at the expense of Joe Peges. Ryan singled to start the frame and moved around via a sacrifice, groundout and wild pitch. When Frank McCormick and Tommy Holmes followed with singles after Ryan scored, Beggs was replaced by Hooks Iott.

Tank Trailer Blows Up; Cars And Home Burned At Shelby

Shelby, Mich., Aug. 15 (AP)—A tank trailer containing 2,000 gallons of gasoline broke loose from a truck here today and exploded on a city street.

In a furious fire that followed two parked automobiles were destroyed, one house was set ablaze, and seven volunteer firemen were hurt. Nearby trees were burned down.

Witnesses said a cloud of smoke pouring upward from the burning trailer could be seen for seven miles.

Clarence Colvin of Muskegon, the truck driver, told Deputy Sheriff John Hiddema his brakes gave way as he was guiding the truck down a hill.

As he tried to turn at an intersection, the trailer broke loose, careened onto Shelby's main street and turned over and exploded.

Two explosions ripped the tank apart, scattering flaming gasoline. The home of Mrs. Louis Riggs was damaged by fire. Parked cars belonging to Ernest Albrink and Leon Schuyler were set on fire and destroyed.

The injured firemen were treated at Shelby Community hospital. Colvin was unhurt. Deputy Hiddema suffered a sprained ankle.

REBELS REPULSED
Buenos Aires, Aug. 15 (AP)—The Paraguayan Embassy said tonight that Loyalist troops in Paraguay's five-month-old civil war had repulsed an insurgent drive on the capital of Asuncion and now were pursuing a divided Rebel force.

way to go, probably three or four miles, to reach the scene," he said. "It seems unlikely that anything definite will be known before the morning about the trapped men."

The William mine's deepest workings were sealed off three years ago after 10 men were killed in an explosion.

Panic spread through Whitehaven, whose 20,000 inhabitants, with generations of mining experience, have known many other disasters, including an underground explosion that killed 136 men at the nearby Wellington pit in 1910.

After the Wellington blast, fire broke out and the mine entrances were bricked up, preventing any attempt to rescue the men.

It was at Whitehaven that women and children once were employed as miners underground.

As a rescue group after rescue group descended in the mine's cage elevator, ambulances rushed to the pithead and white-faced wives and children of the missing miners followed in their wake.

Some 900 men are employed in the mine which was closed for years but reopened shortly before World War II.

Approximately 216 persons lost their lives in celebration of the Fourth of July in the United States in 1935.

Feller, Swanson To Clash In U. P. Golf Quarterfinals Today

Champion Beats Hogan On 19th; Hirn Tangles With Tommy Messenger

Menominee, Aug. 15. (Special to Escanaba Press) — Defending Champion Don Feller led the way into the quarterfinals of the 1947 U. P. Golf association tournament here today with victories over fellow Escanabans and Saturday morning will meet another Escanaban, Elmer Swanson jr., in what he hopes will be a review of the 1946 championship when he beat Swanson in the final round.

Feller, staying close to par, eliminated John Milkovich, Highland, 4 and 3, this morning and then tied up with Former Champion Harry "Cooney" Hogan in what proved to be the best and most interesting match of the day, Feller winning one up on the 19th.

Two up going to the 17th, Feller blew a 10-inch putt that would have ended the match, 2 and 1, and Hogan went on to square the match at the 18th, where Feller left himself trapped at the green. After winning the 17th and 18th to deadlock the match, Hogan's chip shot fell short on the first extra hole, where Feller got down in a regulation par to end the match.

Hirn In Quarterfinals
Swanson moved into the quarterfinals with a first-round triumph over Jean Kreuz, Menominee, and an easy 6-5 win over L. Sixmith, also of Menominee. Hogan beat Gordon Larsen, Menominee, in the first round.

Ray Hirn, Highland Golf club, was the third Escanaban to reach the quarterfinals. Opening with a triumph over Keith LeClair, Ishpeming, he whitewashed young Tony Miluches, Marquette, 5 and 4, in the second round, and Saturday morning will clash with Tom Messenger, Houghton, who won the U. P. title in 1941.

Only three first-round matches went as far as the 18th hole, Phil Jacobs, Jr., Soo, gained a measure of revenge for his loss to Stan Anderson, Ishpeming, in the finals of the 1942 meet in Iron Mountain, by beating the Ishpeming star, one up, and then lost a heartbreaker to Tom Renn, Iron Mountain, by the same margin after his approach birdie putt hit the back of the cup squarely and bounced to the front edge, where it hung on the lip.

Hruska Gets Score
Renn Saturday morning will meet Bruce Christensen, Menominee, who advanced with wins over Hugh Higley and Francis Bourgeois, both of Menominee.

Two other first-round matches that went the limit were Frank Hruska's narrow squeak with Harry Korbuly, Menominee, in which he won on the 19th, and Joe Poffenberger's loss to Harold DeGayner, Menominee, on the 18th after the veteran Escanaban started out with a two-up lead on the first two holes and kept the upper hand until DeGayner's rally.

Bob Slobeg, Escanaba, was eliminated in the first round by Messenger, who this afternoon took a one-up victory over his fellow University of Michigan golf teammate, Johnny Bennett, of Negaunee.

Glenn Thompson, Menominee, also slated to meet Hruska Saturday, advanced with triumphs over his fellow townsmen, downing Jim Hood this morning and DeGayner this afternoon.

Amateur Gals Reluctant To See Babe Go?

Evanston, Ill., Aug. 15. (AP)—The amateur golfing gals breathed a little easier today after hearing that Babe Zaharias has left their ranks to turn professional.

All of the golfers competing in the western amateur gave the Babe, winner of 17 consecutive tournaments, credit for being a fine sport.

"There was no better sport than Babe—to play with or against," said Carol Diring of Tiffin, O.

Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich., and Mary McMillin of Green Bay, the little Wisconsin state champion who beat Mrs. Zaharias in the 1946 western amateur semi-finals 2 and 1, said the Babe did a lot for women's golf.

"She was a great inspiration," they agreed. "Her game was so sharp we other girls had to practice all the time. As the result, our scores generally were lowered."

Escanaba's Bear, Cub Nines Battle Trenary, Munising Here Sunday

Escanaba baseball fans will be treated to a stellar doubleheader at City diamond tomorrow afternoon when the Escanaba Cubs will go all out to clinch the Tri-County junior championship in a tilt with the Munising juniors, and the Escanaba Bears will try to keep in the running for the Rainbow League title in a game against Trenary.

RAINBOW GAMES TOMORROW
Trenary at Escanaba
Chatham at Gladstone
Munising at Manistiquie
Negaunee at Republic
Humboldt at Ishpeming
Gwinn at Marquette

Coach Alvin P. Ness' capable Legion Cubs of Escanaba, who currently are leading the Tri-County pack with seven victories and one defeat, will open the program at 1 tomorrow, with Ray Menard pitching. By winning this game, the Cubs can sew up the junior loop title. Only one more game remains on the Cub slate, that a tangle with Manistiquie on the latter's diamond on Sunday, Aug. 24.

This will be the last chance Escanaba fans will have to see the Cubs in action in league competition, and the second time this season that the Cubs and Bears have appeared in a doubleheader.

Manistiquie and Chatham are currently in a neck-and-neck battle to keep the Cubs from making a walkaway of the Tri-County race.

The Bears have much to atone for and have avowed that they're set to go all out to post a triumph here tomorrow. Coach John Schwalbach is determined that his cohorts will keep in the title chase. The Bears-Trenary game will start at 3.

Jim Fitzpatrick will do the hurling, with Jack Beck and Joe Rademacher in reserve, and the remainder of the lineup follows: Either Dale Wood or Pinky Burnett, catch; Bob Anderson, first base; Dick Lough, second base; Ed Gauthier or Bob L'Houillier, shortstop; Franny Pryal, third base; Kip Derouin, left field; Bob Dufour, center field; Jack Schwalbach, right field.

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

We're off to Menominee to catch the closing rounds today and tomorrow of what promises to be one of the most interesting finishes in U. P. Golf association history.

Hadn't planned to go until this afternoon, but when Don Feller and Elmer Swanson set the stage for their quarterfinal clash this morning, that item went on our must list. We weren't around when they met in the finals here.

And knowing that Elmer is dead serious about his game and Don is a mite relaxed after getting over the Hogan hump on the 19th yesterday, we sense this morning's melee will be well worth seeing. And then there is Ray Hirn's match with Tom Messenger, the Houghton lad who won the title at the age of 16 at Iron River in 1941. May well be a couple of upsets there.

Must have seemed like old times when Messenger tangled with his University of Michigan teammate, Johnny Bennett, of Negaunee, and Phil Jacobs, Soo, met Stan Anderson, Ishpeming, yesterday. Both were good matches, ending in one-up triumphs for Messenger and Jacobs. Stan beat Phil for the title in Iron Mountain in 1942, so undoubtedly relished the revenge. That is until Tom Renn, Iron Mountain, bumped him yesterday afternoon.

Before the war, the U. P. used to draw 150 or so. The new four-day meet cut it down to 108 this year, but undoubtedly the prolonged meet has the approval of most of the golfers. It eliminates matching cards and sets the stage for a grand finale Sunday morning, which wasn't possible before.

Don St. Cyr, Escanaba, the "forgotten man" of the Esby delegation, had 44-38—82 his first round qualifying, but what happened in the afternoon is still an unknown factor. We intend to look him up today and find out.

ODDS AND ENDS: U. P. tennis revival note—The first Iron Mountain-Kingsford tennis tourney will be held next week, and the Marquette county open is underway this week. . . Wonder if Charles E. Forsythe, MHSAA director, will stay over from the U. P. coaches' clinic to see the all-star grid game in Negaunee tonight. . . Forsythe, incidentally, had this to say to Bob Diolo, Marquette sports scribe: "We are not against the Negaunee all-star game as it is now handled. . . As far as we are concerned, that is an independent enterprise. . . But later on in the interview, he dropped this classic: "No question about such a game having a professional touch" to it. . . Now, where do we stand!

MIDGET MEET ENTERS FINALS

Manistiquie, N a h m a Nines Clash For Title Today

Manistiquie, Aug. 15. (Special to Escanaba Press)—Manistiquie and Nahma nines will meet on the No. 1 diamond here at 2 Saturday afternoon in the finals of the Manistiquie midget baseball tournament.

Manistiquie moved into the finals with triumphs over Fair Store of Escanaba, 10-4, and Garden, 13-5, and Nahma advanced with victories over Rapid River, 10-9, and Munising, 10-9.

It was a bad day for Escanaba nines. Garden ousted Bert's Grocers, 13-8, and Munising nipped Carlson's Grocers, 6-5.

To beat Munising, Nahma had to erase a 9-3 deficit in the last of the seventh.

In the "mites" tournament, Anderson and Bloom upheld Escanaba honors with a 10-2 win over Garden, and Manistiquie eked out an 8-7 triumph over Feldstein's of Escanaba. The victors will meet at 2 Saturday afternoon on the No. 2 diamond.

City Softball Meet Set For Sept. 3-7

The Escanaba Softball association tournament will be held Sept. 3-7, it was decided at a meeting of the group in the city hall last night.

All postponed and rained-out games will be played next week, it was announced, and two all-star teams from the American and National leagues will be chosen by three managers from each circuit to play the Norman Ross team of Chicago Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 30-31.

Four all-star teams from the National league will play two exhibition tilts at a date to be announced later.

Gladstone Loses To Rock In Exhibition
Gladstone, Aug. 15.—The Rock baseball nine defeated Gladstone's Lions, 10-3, in an exhibition game on the Bay Shore diamond.

Rock collected nine safeties to only one for the losers. Gladstone had five errors, and Rock had three. Batteries: Gladstone—Young, Lake and F. Nelson; Rock—Jokela, Lampinen and Campbell.

Acute Fire Danger Reported By Isola, Forest Inspector

Lack of rainfall for 26 days has precipitated an acute fire hazard in the forests of Upper Michigan, Victor Isola, assistant forester of the Milwaukee district, stated yesterday. Isola toured the forest cover in Upper Peninsula National Forest this week.

Reviewing overall aspects of the National Forest, Isola also stated there is a need for expanding recreational facilities in the forest areas. During the war, Isola stated, few people had opportunity to visit the forests; but with the coming of plentiful gas and time, these areas are frequented often. In charge of information and education for the Forest Service of the department of agriculture, Isola last toured the Forest in Sept. 1944.

Do You Suffer Distress Of Monthly FEMALE COMPLAINTS With Uncomfortable Fullness?

Are you troubled by distress of female functional monthly disturbances? Does this make you suffer from pain, feel so nervous, restless, weak-at such times? Then try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. In a recent medical test Pinkham's Compound proved remarkably helpful to women troubled this way. It has Doctors call a uterine sedative. It has a grand soothing effect on one of women's most important organs. Taken regularly—Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance to such distress. Also a great stomachic tonic!
